

TOWARDS THE CITY AS A COMMON

16.11 LECTURE | 10:00

Off Campus San Siro | Via Gigante

From participation to commoning processes: discussing their relations with institutions and communities

Both institutional participation and Participatory Action Research have left unanswered questions under neoliberal local governments, while commoning is a collective and more independent process.

Convener:

Prof. Francesca Cognetti, DASTU, Politecnico di Milano

Speaker:

Prof. Lucia Capanema-Alvares, Universidade Federal Fluminense, Rio de Janeiro

25.11 SEMINAR | 14:30

DASTU Meeting Room | Building n. 12, second floor

Exploring extended mobility: how the city includes and/or excludes its marginalized citizens (comparing experiences)

A mobility concept that considers the desire and the conditions to move, the contextual accessibility, and the porosity of the city to welcome its inhabitants may be more responsive to marginalized groups.

Speakers:

Prof. Lucia Capanema-Alvares, Universidade Federal Fluminense, Rio de Janeiro

Prof. Paola Pucci, DASTU, Politecnico di Milano: "Accessibility as a tool for social inclusion"

Prof. Romulo Orrico, Federal University of Rio de Janeiro: "Mobility and Planning issues in Brazil"

Two appointments with Lucia Capanema-Alvares

16.11.22 Lecture

25.11.22 Seminar

Lucia Capanema-Alvares is an associate professor at the Graduate Program in Architecture and Urban Planning at Universidade Federal Fluminense. Most of her experience focuses on multidisciplinary and participatory planning, and in methods and techniques.

Her areas of interest are urban public spaces, community planning, sustainability, and the city as commons.

POLITECNICO
MILANO 1863

DIPARTIMENTO DI ARCHITETTURA
E STUDI URBANI
DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE
AND URBAN STUDIES